

SET ELECTION FOR DRAINAGE BOARD JULY 15

Canvass of Petition Shows Sufficient Signatures

The petition presented by property owners in drainage district No. 1 and asking that the affairs of the district be placed in the hands of a board of three trustees by means of a special election, was officially approved by the board of supervisors this morning and the date of the election set for Wednesday, July 15.

A resolution setting the date was adopted unanimously by the board after it had heard a report on the canvass of the signatures on the petition filed several weeks ago. There are 85 landowners in the district and the petition was found to bear 45 names, which is more than the number required to have the proposition submitted to a ballot.

Due to the absence of a school building in the drainage district proper, the matter of designating the place where the election is to be held, was set until this afternoon. The election will probably be held at some farm house in the district.

Three trustees are to be elected to serve for terms of one, two and three years, respectively. Election of one trustee for the district, which includes parts of Wapishon and Goshen townships, will take place each year thereafter. The trustees are to be elected by land owners of the district as a whole, but the district will be divided into three sections of which each trustee will have separate supervision. A plan of the district outlining the boundaries will be prepared at once and submitted to the board of supervisors, it was decided.

The county board has for some time considered the matter of widening, deepening, cleaning out and extending the drainage ditch. When the project was finally approved some time ago, property owners of the district filed suit for a temporary injunction to restrain the county from carrying out the program. Action on the matter was later deferred after a conference between the supervisors and property owners.

The method of balloting is also expected to be decided at this afternoon's session.

High Prices of 10 Years Ago Lowered At Big Ward Sale

That always absorbing topic "What Dollar Will Do" is more vividly discussed than ever this morning at the Ward's big sale.

Shoppers whose experience enables them to hark back to the bargains of the post-war era are just certain that they are once again on a sane living standard. Compared with 1921 prices, down from 50 per cent to 75 per cent on many items," declared Summer Sale shopper.

Our Summer Sale prices are really sensational," Mr. A. R. Howe, manager of Ward's store, said today. "Not only do they reflect the general trend to lower prices that exist everywhere at present, they actually are going the trend one better! Quality for quality, our prices are several notches lower than the usual run because Ward buying power effects tremendous savings on every purchase. Furniture, for example, is not only lower priced than 10 years ago, it is at the lowest level in 18 years! And, electric washers, vacuum cleaners, radios, sporting needs and auto accessories were never lower priced. That's why the Summer Sale at Ward's is the greatest buying opportunity thirty people have had in ten years and more!"

Chilly Snap Brings Men to 'City Hotel'

The cold weather of the past few days has increased patronage at the city hotel operated at 215 Commercial street by Chief of Police Mark Taylor, for the benefit of homeless wanderers. Wednesday evening 33 men availed themselves of the opportunity to sleep in a steam heated cell at the city hall.

While this does not compare with the record of 74 wayfarers who stopped there one night during the past winter, it is a larger number than has been accommodated during the past week or so.

Will of J. D. Stuart Filed for Probate; Wife Is Sole Heir

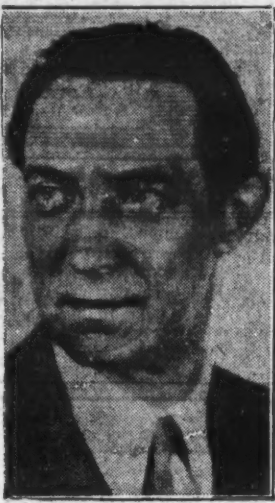

The will of John D. Stuart, who died in Lake township on May 16, was filed for probate today and bequeaths all of his property to his widow, Naomi A. Stuart. The will appoints the widow to serve as executrix of the estate.

None Hurt in Two Auto Wrecks Here

Four automobiles were slightly damaged but no one was injured in two accidents Wednesday evening. William Moore of the Heitz garage reported to the police that an automobile driven by him and one operated by M. P. Borne crashed at the intersection of Washington street and Park avenue.

Another accident was reported by Carl Strope, 1011 East Sixth street, who told police that his automobile and one belonging to Fred Barker collided at the intersection of Smalley avenue and Park avenue.

50th Anniversary Is Observed by Local Members Today

Today the Red Cross commemorates its fiftieth anniversary in service to humanity. Throughout the nation the name of Clara Barton, founder of the organization, will be upon the lips of many. In Muscatine 500 members of the organization will do homage to her.

President Herbert Hoover who said, "The Red Cross is the expression of the national will, the national sympathy, the call is mandatory upon the heart of the nation," will speak to the many thousands of people in the United States through a national hookup of radio stations, upon the great service this organization has given to humanity. Many of the local branch are planning on listening in.

Flags have been placed on all the municipal buildings in Muscatine under the direction of F. W. Ziegler, president of the local body. All the pastors in the city will speak from their pulpits in commemoration of the anniversary. Those churches having their weekly meetings tonight will have special programs concerning the event.

The government is going so far to impress this great occasion on the people of the nation as to have a special two cent stamp printed which will bring to mind the great good and unselfish worth of the Red Cross.

MRS. M. CORIELL

UNITED STATES

Mrs. Minnie M. Coriell, a resident of Muscatine county her entire life, died at 7:45 p. m., Wednesday in her home in Goshen township. She had been ill for a long time.

Miss Minnie M. Daugherty was born March 5, 1876 and was married March 4, 1897 to George E. Coriell in Muscatine. Surviving are the widow, six children, Mrs. M. Y. Howe, of Muscatine; Mrs. Archie Braum of Sweetland township; Mrs. Lester Isaacs, Mrs. Will Fishburn, all of this city, Merle and Lester W. Coriell at home, and one brother, Ed Daugherty of this city. Funeral services will be held Friday at 1:15 p. m., from the home and at 2 p. m., from the Cedar Valley church near West Liberty. Burial will be in the Greenwood cemetery with the Rev. Benjamin F. Schwartz, of the First Methodist church officiating.

Wage Reductions Are Advised by Wall St.

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Hugh Bancroft, publisher of the Wall Street Journal, today advocated an immediate, downward revision of wage scales to restore prosperity and attacked industrialists and government leaders who seek to maintain existing wage scales in the face of the present depression.

Sixteen Teams Named Wednesday Night At Meeting

Teams were chosen and talks on boy scout work and final instructions were given solicitors Wednesday evening when some 60 men gathered at a dinner in the basement of the Fairbanks Home for Funerals, to arrange details of the annual scout financial drive which was formally opened at that time. The drive, for 3,000 will continue the rest of this week.

Talks were made by L. B. Echols, chief executive of the Buffalo Bill scout area, with headquarters in Davenport; John Paulson, also of Davenport; and Henry Fayle and Joe Roth, both of Muscatine.

Ben Gallaher, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. will issue a daily bulletin to the scouts, showing the progress of each during the drive.

The solicitors were divided into 16 teams. They will report daily to W. R. Olsen, scout executive in charge of the local work, at his office in the Hersey State bank building. Mr. Olsen will remain in his office throughout the day to assist workers with any problems which may arise.

The members of the teams are as follows: G. C. Faris, captain; A. E. Sparling, worker; F. L. Rambo, captain; George Koenigsacker, Roy Fairbanks, workers; Ray Reeslin, captain; H. Lang and Lindley Hoopes, workers; Paul Steinmetz, captain; C. R. Stafford, Ray Grimm, L. E. West, R. J. Dawson and Henry Fayle, workers; A. Van Dyke, captain; J. A. Davidson, Clarence Eitman and Paul Haverkamp, workers; Art Glebel, captain; Rev. Thomas Fogelson and Herman Cohn, workers; Dr. A. J. Weaver, captain; J. C. Broud and John Hall, workers; John Thompson, captain; Mike Kautz and the Rev. C. W. Hempstead, workers; Glen Barnard, captain; Fred Eichenhauer and Carl Geotzmann, workers; C. O. Connor, captain; W. A. Mathers and T. Ray Brown, workers; Louis G. Elfers, captain; Fred Beach, W. R. Votaw and the Rev. W. H. Slack, workers; Elmer Quandt, captain; L. R. McKee, Ernest Burnett and Stewart Navis, workers; J. H. Wilson, captain; A. R. Howe and Roy Fisher, workers.

Rylanders Return From Wedding Trip; Still on Vacation

County Farm Agent and Mrs. Carl Rylander, who were married here on May 9, returned Wednesday night from their honeymoon trip during which time they visited relatives in Oklahoma City, Okla. Ames and LeGrand, Ia. Mrs. Rylander, who was formerly Miss Grace Stevens, is a daughter of the late County Agent of this county.

The couple is still on a two weeks vacation and they will not resume their duties at the Farm Bureau office until next Monday. They are residing at 401 West Third street.

Baseball records show that 102 big league pitchers have succeeded in twirling 111 no-hit no-run games.

A New Enterprise Is Possible for Muscatine

No Stock To Be Sold; Would Mean Additional $1,000,000 in Bank Clearings

Hospital, it means 6,000 pairs of eyes gazing into our merchants' windows, buying goods to an average of at least a dollar per visitor meaning $6,000 extra business weekly for our community.

Over Million a Year

"That means at least $12,000 spent yearly not counting the extra amount spent for gasoline and oils and other necessities. That amount plus the fees for medical attention will far pass the one million dollar mark yearly, and such an amount added to the payroll and investments in the city each year is well worth while.

"Muscatine has this opportunity if the citizens will pledge their loyalty and cooperation. No stock will be sold, the entire venture will be started by me personally at my expense and will require many thousands of dollars to start same.

"Such an institution will gain the same popularity as the Baker hospital and with the successful and proven formulas I have, together with the doctor who becomes interested in this with me, it will make Muscatine known throughout the world.

"Rochester, Minn., was a very small town of about 6,000 population when Mayo started. Today it is nearly 40,000. I understand. This expansion occurred in the short time of 20 years. All of this on the strength of doctors who do only what any well equipped hospital can do. In this matter of cancer and tuberculosis, this city would have an institution with advanced treatment that actually have proven their worth by positive cures, and could not be received elsewhere, therefore Muscatine has an even better opportunity to grow more rapidly than Rochester.

Public Should Awaken
"It is rather hard to get the public to realize this because we have in this city taken the path of least resistance for so long that unless we awaken and cooperate with those who have spent fortunes in the city, who have thoroughly advertised the city, who have brought crowds to the city, and who have the progress of the city at heart, we can never expect to grow—except smaller.

"I make this prophesy: Real estate will never increase in value, our population will never increase, our labor conditions will never improve, our farmers will never receive full cooperation, until our citizens awaken and FOLLOWING FALSE PROPHEYS.

"We always had a tendency in this city to follow those whose interests were OUT OF THE CITY, and I do not hesitate to mention the other newspaper, which has thrown away columns of space in attacking the very projects in our city to advertise and grow our community and any other, including their entire newspaper plant.

"To this day, in view of the fact that this newspaper is owned by nearly 1100 stockholders, numbering among them farmers, laborers, ministers, professional men and women in all walks of life, the citizens have not fully realized what cooperation means. It is true that thousands have already subscribed in the city and rural routes, but at least 1000 more could show their loyalty and interest in their own community by giving this paper their cooperation instead of giving all their support to those whose interests are OUTSIDE OF OUR CITY. If the people of this community, those who have not already subscribed, will do so, and show by so doing that they are behind our projects, I am sure the public will understand by position. I am for Muscatine first, last and always—I have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in Muscatine as the bankers well know, but I do not care to venture more, until I have every assurance that cooperation is assured. Cooperation does not mean merely a word or a gesture, it means a concrete step towards actual materialization, and that step is to show your cooperation by the giving of these projects which are fostered by the people and myself, one of which is this paper. If this paper, printed in our own beautiful home, a building that eliminated an old eye sore in our city for many years, is not worthy of your support, after spending many thousands of dollars in salaries to workers of the city, then I could hardly expect more support from those same citizens in case I venture to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars more in the community. That amount would be necessary in starting and operating the new Sanatorium.

The "Hatched Chickens"
"To me it appears obvious that our commercial organizations are controlled and influenced by a few, a few who care not for the community unless they can put their hands in the money that follows, and until that condition is eliminated, we cannot expect any progress for Muscatine or our immediate territory. These flashed about "this and that" inquiring about coming to our city in the HATCHED CHICKENS not the expected ones.

"We have shown by our activities that we materialize our thoughts and promises, and the matter now stands squarely before our own citizens. I would like to hear from those who are interested, those who will extend their thoughts and promises, and they will stand behind us, we will assure them of the fulfillment of our promises. It is obvious that if the community will not stand behind the Midwest Free Press 100 per cent we could not expect it to stand behind any other project we would start. There has been a great deal of talk, but no action.

CONSTANTLY STOP THE PROGRESS OF OUR COMMUNITY AND HAVE TAKEN OUR MONEY OUT OF THE CITY TO THEIR HOME OFFICE IN DAVENPORT. Show your loyalty and cooperation by giving us your subscription today. The 15c weekly brings you a paper and a loyal one. Just phone 2900 to start.

LEGION POPPY SALE SATURDAY

White Label on Each One for Protection Of the Public

The little white label attached to each of the memorial poppies which the women of the American Legion Auxiliary will sell on the streets here Saturday is the public's protection, according to members of the auxiliary who were completing final arrangements for the sales effort today. The label is the guarantee that the poppy has been made by a needy disabled veteran and that every penny paid for the flower will go to relief of disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead, they stated.

The label, which is secured to the stem of every poppy, bears on one side the words "In Memoriam," and the official emblem of The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary. On the other side it carries the names of the two organizations and the words, "Veteran Made Poppy."

"No poppy which does not bear this label is the official poppy of the Legion and Auxiliary," explained Mrs. Sam Dye. "The label gives assurance that the vast organization of the Legion and Auxiliary stands behind the poppy, vouches that the flower is veteran-made and pledges that the best possible use will be made of the money paid for the flower."

"As a further protection for the public, all women selling the Legion and Auxiliary poppy will wear distinctive badges with the Auxiliary's name in large letters. To make sure that they are purchasing an authentic veteran-made poppy and are giving the entire sum of their contribution to veteran relief work, Muscatine citizens should buy their poppies only from women wearing these badges. Every Auxiliary worker is a volunteer worker and every penny given them goes directly into the Legion and Auxiliary funds for the relief of the needy disabled and dependents."

MAGICIAN RENO ENTERTAINS AT HIGH ASSEMBLY

High School Faculty And Students Kept In Laughter

Professor Edward M. Reno, famous magician and National Assembly program representative, entertained the high school students and faculty members this morning at the high school auditorium with several fascinating tricks of magic.

Prof. Reno was ably assisted in his task of furnishing two high school students, Grant Brown and Howard Martin.

These two boys with the aid of the famous sleight-of-hand and quick witted professor, had the students in an uproar of laughter from the beginning of his program, until he had completed his final trick.

Falls Birds from Hat
Among the most difficult and interesting tricks of magic that Prof. Reno performed were those of producing live animals and birds from the scope of some derby hat or small wooden box.

On one occasion the famous magician, after pulling from the small oval shaped derby several objects of interest, such as pieces of cloth, paper and occupants that were unbelievable, produced a live decoy mallard. The student body sat in amazement and then broke loose with spirited laughter.

Another one of his best tricks was that of changing a glass of water, set on one table, to another table on which was a bottle of gin. He did this several times but at no time did the professor close enough to touch either object.

Prof. Reno was pulling live rabbits, pigeons, and ducks from various containers all through the program. He delighted the audience with several card and coin tricks, and by the use of a cardboard cylinder, made an American flag from a small piece of tissue paper.

Wise-cracks Drive Audience
The professor tore paper into small bits, squeezed them in his hand and then pulled it out in one piece. He did this feat several times and each time tore the paper into smaller bits.

The aforementioned trick, together with several minor ones, that also interested his audience, all of a new nature to the students, and were performed in a different manner than those of several other tried magicians.

Reno, during his presentation of the tricks, would uncoil some wise-crack that would leave the admirers in a turmoil of laughter and while they were in this state, would unveil his tricks and finish with deafening applause on finishing but declined to appear for an encore.

Two Seek Divorces In District Court On Cruelty Claims

Cruelty is charged in divorce petitions filed by two women in district court this afternoon.

Dorothy E. Hanson of West Liberty asks a divorce from Howard Hanson on grounds of cruelty and failure to provide. The petition, filed by Attorney P. L. Bihlmeier, states that they were married May 1, 1930 at West Liberty, and separated Nov. 20, 1930.

Hanson asks that she be awarded both temporary and permanent alimony, suit money and attorney fees, and that she be allowed to resume her former name of Dorothy E. Heddes.

Hazel Lisk, through Attorneys Drake and Wilson, asks the court to grant her $5 per week as permanent alimony, $50 for attorney fees and $25 as suit money. A writ of attachment in the sum of $200 was issued against the property of the defendant.

Thousands Thrilled By Mimic Battle of Skies As 650 Planes Engage in Chicago Maneuvers

CHICAGO—(INS)—Chicago today was treated to a roaring exhibition of aerial strength by the war birds of the United States army.

With the lake front of the metropolitan area all the way from Evanston to Gary, Ind., as their theater, more than 650 planes demonstrated wherein aviation excels as a means of attack or defense.

The more parading of the ships against the azure blue sky was stupendous. More awe-inspiring, however, was the mock warfare that followed in the vicinity of the navy pier.

Today's maneuvers represented the first concentration of the army air service before the fleet proceeded to the Atlantic seaboard to meet a mythical national foe.

The day was started off with a parade, nearly 20 miles in length from the first ship to the last, which roared down the shore of Lake Michigan from the northern suburb of Evanston.

Shortly after the planes passed in review above navy pier, three units of the division staged their mock combat.

Brig. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, commander of the aerial force, led the parade along the lake shore. His advance guard was comprised of 36 heavy bombardment planes.

Next in line were 33 light bombardment planes, 51 attack planes, about 200 observation planes, nearly 200 speedy pursuit ships, followed by the miscellaneous transport and auxiliary ships.

After the parade review Captain Frank "Monk" Hunter and his Rockwell Field, Cal., 95th pursuit squadron put on what is politely known as the "combat demonstration."

First, the fast, Fort Crockett, Tex. attack group swooped down on unsuspecting imaginary enemy ranks to rake away manpower in a leader's hailstorm of death.

Then Hunter and his outfit of "dog-fighters" showed just how pursuit sky-riders proceed to clear of these same attack planes. They climbed up to nearly 8,000 feet altitude, and dived 5,000 feet down with throttle wide open, guns spitting death.

Army records of the world war reveal that enemy airmen exposed to this treatment at the hands of Hunter usually "retired in confusion."

A Rockwell field bombing squadron roared into the war picture to meet the same fate at the hands of the pursuit group.

The closing combat operation was a "dog-fight," when two of the 95th fliers, each trying to "get the tail" of the other to send pilot and "ship" to earth in flame.

Across the sky to drop a smoke curtain, and behind it the big formation turned nose southward. The unit was scheduled to land at Fairfield and Wright fields near Dayton, O., this afternoon.

Uncle Sam's Davis Cup Stars to Meet Canada Team Today

MONTREAL—(INS)—Uncle Sam will lead with his aces this afternoon, when the United States opposes Canada on the Mount Royal tennis club courts in the North American zone Davis cup final.

Frank Shields, New York, star of the United States squad, will play No. 1 singles against Dr. Jack A. Wright, and Sidney Wood, of New York, second best of the invaders, will play No. 2 singles against Marcel Rainville.

Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., and Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, the other members of the American troupe, are being saved. They may play together in the doubles. If they don't, they will probably see action in singles on Saturday.

MILK DEALERS HOLD MEETING To Try to Keep 'Part Time' Dealers from Selling Milk

A meeting of all dairymen in this vicinity has been called for Friday evening in the city hall at which time a committee will be appointed to investigate the matter.

The closing combat operation was a "dog-fight," when two of the 95th fliers, each trying to "get the tail" of the other to send pilot and "ship" to earth in flame.

Whether or not the dairymen will be required to pay for the bacteria and butterfat tests made on their milk, or a license fee required will be decided when the committee and officials meet.

Another method of keeping the small dealers from operating only a few months of the year which was suggested at this afternoon's meeting, is to hire an inspector and enforce the United States standard dairy ordinance.

A delegation of eight milk dealers, who said they represented 20 dairymen in the city, appeared before the board of health Tuesday night with the request that some method be used whereby "part time" milk dealers would be kept from operating.

Spain added 48 new motion picture theaters to its list this year and 156 houses were equipped with sound apparatus.

BOGEY MATCHES FEATURE GOLF CLUB OPENING

Season Plans Drawn Up at 'Wow Feast' In Club House

Under threatening skies, against chilling wintry blasts and in weather so befitting a football game than a golf tournament members of the Geneva Golf and Country club held their blind bogey matches on Wednesday to officially open the summer season on the local course.

Play continued throughout the afternoon and was not finished until after 6 o'clock Wednesday night. The score of the blind bogey was 46 and was won by the following club members: Dr. L. J. Donohue, Fred Kretschmar, W. H. Hendrickson, William Mueller, G. R. Howe, Charles Meerdink and Oliver Bentley.

The playoff for the final winner will be announced later, according to George Meerdink.

Slag Dinners Planned
Following the matches the members adjourned to the club house where the "Wow Feast" was held at 6:30 o'clock. Lady Bosten, chairman of the sports committee, conducted a meeting in regard to future plans during the summer months. It was decided that during the month of June a stag dinner will be held every Thursday evening. Match play will precede each affair. If the dinners prove successful they will be continued throughout the year.

Plans were also made to hold an open week some time in June, the date to be announced later, at which time the members may bring a guest to play on the club course. One of the big features of the meeting was the announcement pertaining to the holding of a special hand handicap Memorial day.

Course In Shape
Mr. Meerdink also stated that due to the recent rains the course is now in fine shape and all permanent greens except one, the seventh which is being refinished, are in fine condition.

The "Wow Feast" the feature event in Wednesday's program for local golfers, was well attended and between thirty-five or forty members were there. According to reports from local golfers the dinner this year surpassed those of past years and a welcome relief was found in the restricted placed upon those in attendance, relative to the fact that golf must be forgotten during the session around the banquet table.

Many Bequests in Will of G. Koehler Filed for Probate

"Jake, The Barber"

Ordinarily the ability of a barber to induce the man who wants only a shave to also get a hair cut, shampoo, face massage, hair tonic, etc. before he leaves the chair would not be considered good training for a criminal career, but it was this persuasive ability, according to press reports, that has made "Jake the Barber" Factor of Chicago, Europe and other places a much-wanted man. Early in his career he figured it out that if he could make a barber shop customer spend anywhere from one to three dollars for service when the customer intended to spend not over 50 cents when he sat down in the chair, why not go after the big money, using the same tactics. Jake did it, it is alleged, and now he is wanted by Scotland Yard for swindling gullible Britishers out of something like seven million dollars. The pace becoming too hot, Factor has surrendered to the authorities.

Living on top of the heap for several years because of his ill-gotten gains, his career as a free man is at its close. The law has caught up with him. He, too, should be an object lesson for other would-be swindlers. He, also, teaches us that crime does not pay.

It Is Up To The People

When Senator Borah asserted that an angry public opinion will eventually halt this constantly rising public expense he was well within the realms of reason. The public is slow to arouse. The operation of our federal government, while everybody's business, is in reality nobody's business. The average individual is generally too busy with his own personal problems to give this subject of government the attention it deserves. But there is a limit which even the public will not endure, and that does not seem to be very far off.

We must pay more attention to our political candidates. We must examine more closely into their qualifications. We must not be misled by fair-weather promises only to later discover we are in the same old rut, as so frequently has happened in the past. What this country needs is a political regeneration from the ground up.

At no time in recent history has there been so much public attention focused on political mismanagement than at present. As yet it is mostly talk but if we talk loudly enough, if we as individuals realize that this business of government is the most important facing the American people, and if we see to it that candidates for public office must be qualified to resist this constantly increasing rule of bureaucracy, with its millions upon millions of waste, the ballot box will again mean something and government will again become representative of all the people.

Will Rogers Says It

Many pages could be written and less said than the pithy remarks of Will Rogers, the nation's foremost humorist and "wise-cracker," regarding the offer of Oklahoma City university to make him a doctor of something or other as a recognition of his accomplishments and so he could have a handle after his name. When advised of the good intentions of the southern educational institution, Rogers stated that in his opinion he had already received the limit of such honors, the title of A. D. A. which Will declares is "Doctor of Applesauce," conferred upon him by the Oolagah, Okla., kindergarten.

Just Kiddies

By T. W. Burgess

SAMMY FINDS FARMER BROWN'S BOY AT WORK

Sammy Jay left the dear Old Briar Patch after telling Peter Rabbit and little Mrs. Peter that he was going to the city to get some more of those "goodies" that he had been talking about. He had been down straight over to warn Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse. Danny and Nanny had been just as grateful as Peter and Mrs. Peter. It made Sammy feel good. You know, it always makes one feel good to do a kind deed to others and have them grateful for it.

When Sammy left Danny and Nanny down on the Green Meadows and found him in the old orchard, he was just in time to see the Green Forest and warn Whitefoot the Wood Mouse to keep his eyes extra wide open for Reddy Fox and his crew. As he flew along he saw something that for the time being quite put Whitefoot out of his head. It was Farmer Brown's Boy at work along the old Orchard. He was digging.

"That's funny," thought Sammy. "I wonder what he is digging for there. I wonder if he is trying to dig up somebody's house. I thought he had got over those things like that, but you never can tell about these men folks. No, sir, you never can tell. They are queer creatures. They certainly don't guess I'll go over to the Old Orchard and see what is going on."

So Sammy flew over to the Old Orchard without making a sound and found a place in an old apple tree where he could watch Farmer Brown's Boy. He found a number of other little people doing the same thing. In fact, all the little people of the Old Orchard were watching Farmer Brown's Boy. It didn't take Sammy long to discover that. Welcome Robin, Scrapper the Kingbird, Chippy the Sparrow, Jenny Wren, Tommy Tit the Chickadee, Drummer the Woodpecker, Goldie the Oriole—they were all sitting silent and watchful where they could see Farmer Brown's Boy at work. It was as silent in the Old Orchard as if there were no living creatures there. Peeping out from between the stones of the old wall, Striped Chipmunk was watching, just as his feathered friends were. There was a puzzled, and it seemed to Sammy a very big, anxious, look in Striped Chipmunk's eyes.

Sammy flew over beside Welcome Robin. "What is Farmer Brown's Boy doing?" he whispered. "Welcome Robin, what is he doing?" "I don't know," said he. "Nobody knows. I mean we don't know what he is doing for. You can see for yourself what he is doing. He is digging little holes all along the old wall, but what under the sun he can be for none of us can guess. It's a funny thing to do, to dig little holes like those. He seems to be happy about it."

Sammy had already noticed that Farmer Brown's Boy was whistling the way he always whistles when he is happy or doing something he likes to do. Once in a while he would stop to rest for a few minutes, and then he would look up in the trees as if looking for the birds hidden there and his freckled face would be smiling and good to see. The fact is, Farmer Brown's Boy knew he was being watched. He knew that ever so many sharp eyes were watching him, though he couldn't see a single pair. And he knew that his little friends were wondering and wondering what he could be about. When he had rested he would chuckle and then he would begin to dig and whistle again. Shrewd Sammy Jay quickly made up his mind to one thing, and that was that whatever Farmer Brown's Boy was doing all those little holes for he intended no harm to anybody. He said as much to Welcome Robin.

"I hope not," replied Welcome Robin. "But what is it all for? It's funny, very funny. Of what use can a lot of little holes be to anybody?"

If you trust to luck for anything you will be lucky if you get it.

Some men never respect the things they are unable to understand.

What men call firmness in themselves they call contrariness in others.

"What are you trying to do?" Rogers wired an Oklahoma City newspaper, "make a joke out of college degrees? They are in bad enough repute as it is without handing 'em around to comedians. The whole honorary degree thing is the hokey. I saw some college give Mellon one and he is a billion bucks short. I got too much respect for people that work and earn 'em to see 'em handed around to every notorious character."

And that seems to be that.

Once again Rogers has scored a bullseye in the opinion of millions of people who share his belief that this honorary degree stuff is largely hokum when conferred upon those who have not earned it by climbing up the ladder of academic instruction.

Courted Death

The death of "Speed" Holman, conceded to have been the most spectacular of "stunt aviators," had been predicted many times because of his seemingly impossible feats. That death was not unexpected by Holman himself was shown by his statements to friends that he probably "would die in harness."

Holman's plane crashed at Omaha Sunday while he was flying upside down at a speed of close to 300 miles an hour. Twice before he had climbed to 2,000 feet, pointed the nose of his plane earthward, and zoomed in a dive to within twenty feet of the ground. The third time was fatal.

Nothing is gained by such exhibitions. Aviation itself is retarded rather than advanced by such foolhardy feats. That this was the view of the aeronautical authorities was shown by the decision to rescind his license. There are enough airplane accidents as it is, with every safety precaution known to science, without creating hazards that mean certain death in the long run. Skillful as Holman was, an element of luck had saved him many times in the past. At Omaha his safety belt broke, luck failed him. He had tried it once too often. Except for momentary thrills of witnesses of his dare-devil maneuvers, which the public can do very well without, nobody profited except Holman and his promoters. Such profits do not mean progress.

Illinois Income Tax

It begins to look like Illinois will have an income tax. The power of the representatives in the senate and house from the rural districts is asserting itself. The Cook county (Chicago) delegation was almost solidly against the measure as were also members of the assembly from other populous districts of the state. But the farmers won. The bill, which has already passed the senate, will probably pass in the house as a 86 to 60 vote was recorded in a preliminary skirmish when the recommendation of the revenue committee that the bill not be passed was defeated. It is estimated the state will profit to the extent of forty million dollars annually if the measure becomes a law.

The same reasons for the defeat of the tax as were advanced in Iowa were presented in Illinois, among them that it does not mean a shift in the tax burden but additional taxation, that it will drive business out of the state and prevent the development of new business, etc. If this is true and Iowa continues to defeat similar legislation we had better begin making plans now to invite Illinois firms to come across the river and aid in increasing the payrolls of Hawkeye industry.

Our Platform for the People Is:

1. Less taxation.
2. Fewer State Commissions.
3. Universal school books.
4. Lower freight rates.
5. Return of river transportation.
6. A cleanup of some state institutions.
7. More efficiency in public offices.

At all other countries we scoff. But a bunch of well organized rings inform us just where we get off. We may look at insiders whose orders we take. With a shudder of sheer trepidation, and then, with an air of fierce pride, we declare: It is we who are running the nation.

Learn to Know the Right Word

By W. C. Nicholson

HEAR "THE RIGHT WORD"

Can you get WOR on your receiving set? If you can, why not tune in and hear "The Right Word" via radio tomorrow, Friday, May 22nd?

Read "The Right Word" every afternoon in your paper; think about the right word; practice using the right word.

And now hear the right word over your radio. Tomorrow at 7:45 a. m. (Iowa time) W. Curtis Nicholson, author of this column, will speak to you over WOR. He will explain and try to drive home to you some important points with regard to correct English. You might like to listen in, and so you are being given ample notice. Possibly some of your friends or members of your family would also like to listen in. Tell them about it.

Then, too, you might have some questions you would like to have answered over the radio. Listen carefully and you will be told where you can mail these queries so that Mr. Nicholson will get them and be able to send you a reply over the air.

"The Right Word" broadcast will be a weekly WOR feature on Friday, at 7:45 a. m. (Iowa time) beginning May 22nd.

JUST A DREAM

Democracy is the form of government that gives, or pretends to give, to the people the illusion that they are sovereigns.—B. Mussolini.

We may when we ask for our rights, Be received with a pitying smile; Our boldest political fights May be usually not worth the while.

Our badges of dignified citizenship May be nothing but tin double-crosses. But we'll puff up with pride, smug and self-satisfied. As long as we think we're the bosses.

Our earnings may go to support A parcel of shrewd profiteers; Our funds may run steadily short. We may get into debt to the ears. To keep idle men in municipal jobs We may spend all our hard-earned piastres. But we'll murmur a song as we labor along. As long as we think we're the masters.

The gangsters may do as they please. And rob us at every turn. The racketeers live at their ease. On the money we struggle to earn. We may have to commit our most vital affairs. Bridge-Auction and Contract

By the Author
MILTON C. WORK

With the above hand at Auction Bridge, the bidding might be: South two, North two Clubs (artificial), East pass; South two Diamonds (denying the Ace and King), West pass; North two Spades, East pass; South two No Trumps (keeping it open for North), West pass; North three Hearts, East pass; South three No Trumps, West pass; North five Spades, East pass; South pass, West double.

South's three No Trumps on the fourth round announced that he was weak in and had no performance between two suits of his partner, but had enough strength in the minor to play a No Trump declaration. North's five Spades was a slam invitation, North thinking a slam very probable if South had one minor Ace; but although holding such an Ace, South did not consider his hand strong enough to accept the invitation. With five Spades in one adverse hand it was fortunate that South was cautious.

In the play East led the Queen of Diamonds which was won by South's Ace. South then led a trump, and in view of West's double North finessed the Ten. When that won, North led the Ace and King of Hearts, and then a small Heart, South ruffing with his other trump, but being over-ruffed by West. West then led the King of Clubs which won; but when he followed it with the Ace of Clubs, North took the remainder of the tricks and made his doubled declaration.

Declarer's success was made possible by West's double; without it North would not have made the Spade finesse. A doubler who is sitting under a trump declarer and doubling because of honors other than the Ace or long trumps, always takes the chance of giving too much information; but it would hardly be human for a player to refrain from doubling a five-bid when he held an Ace-King, and a King and five trumps to the Jack. Poppy Day Will Be Observed in Country May 23

"Poppy Day" will be observed over the entire country Saturday and in preparation of the event Mrs. H. W. Zeus, chairman of the publicity campaign for the American Legion auxiliary has written the following statement:

"On Saturday, May 23, millions of Americans will wear the blood-red poppy of Flanders Field in memory of those gallant American boys who sacrificed their lives in the World war. I hope that every one of you will wear a poppy on that day, for in no more fitting way can we give expression to the honor in which we hold those men who died that American ideals might live. I hope too, that under every breast which bears a poppy, will beat a heart which understands the beautiful symbolism of the little flower.

When we drop our coins into the boxes of the poppy sellers Saturday I hope that we will all have the picture of these men and their families before our eyes. They gave so gladly and abundantly of the very substance of their lives. Cannot we give gladly and abundantly that some of the good things of life may yet be restored to them? Our happy prosperity would not be ours today if they had not paid the cost of victory in 1918. We should be very generous on poppy day."

Nichols Couple Wed Wednesday

Miss Felicitas T. Mills and Harry Braun, both of Nichols, were married at the local First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The single ring ceremony was read by the Rev. J. B. Rendall, pastor.

Preceding the service Miss Bernice Stecher of Pleasant Prairie sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. Edward Morehead.

The bride was given in white chiffon and she carried roses and sweet peas. The maid of honor, Miss Arvilla Mills, sister of the bride, wore a frock of green tulle. Roy Braun, brother of the bridegroom, served as bestman.

Relatives of couple were present for the ceremony.

After a honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Braun will reside on a farm near Nichols.

Food Prices Drop A Fifth in Year
WASHINGTON (INS)—Retail food prices dropped about 2 per cent in April from March prices. Since April a year ago the decrease has amounted to 18 per cent, the bureau of labor statistics announced today.

Butter, with a decrease of 6 per cent, topped the list of 34 food articles that declined in price during the month. Coffee declined 5 per cent, fresh eggs and cornmeal, 4 per cent, plate beef, oleomargarine, cheese, bread, flour, navy beans, pork and beans, canned corn, tomatoes and peas, and bananas, 3 per cent; rig and chuck roast, sliced ham, milk, macaroni, rice, sugar and prunes, 2 per cent; sirloin and round steak, sliced bacon, canned salmon, evaporated milk, rolled oats, tea and raisins, 1 per cent.

San Francisco supports the Globe club of the Arizona league to the extent of $700 a month.

Chinese Girl in U.S. College Has Treasure Coat

DENVER—(INS)—An ancient Chinese coat, hand woven, of finest silk, about which an ancient legend of the Orient has been drawn, is owned by Frances Chin, sophomore at Colorado Woman's college here.

Miss Chin has never seen the land of her forefathers, from which the coat was brought by an aunt. The coat is more than 300 years old and has been handed down to the young girl in each generation.

According to the legend, the first Tartar emperor gave the original costume, of which Miss Chin's coat is successor, to one of his three daughters. The one it fitted best was to become the next empress of China.

The coat fitted the youngest, Bow Chin. When it became time for her, as empress to choose a husband, she made an embroidered ball. Whoever picked up the ball after the empress threw it was to become emperor.

Shent Ping Wong, a beggar boy, picked up the ball and became emperor of the Tartars and sovereign of the kingdoms of China.

The legend is still preserved in the Chinese stage.

The coat was first brought to this country in 1905.

Miss Walter Weds Fred Wright
Wedding vows of Miss Irene Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walter, 1119 East Front street, and Fred Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright, 911 Park lane, were exchanged Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the rectory of the Trinity Episcopal church. The Rev. Stanley F. Jondahl performed the ceremony. Attendants at the service were Mrs. Walter, Mrs. Wright and Harold Walter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright will reside at 1119 East Front street.

Grace Lutheran Aid Conducts Sale
The Ladies' Aid society of Grace Lutheran church met in all day session Wednesday at the church. A rummage sale was held. Next Wednesday, May 27, the group will convene again at the church with Mrs. Alice Spence and Mrs. A. T. McGill as hostesses.

Miriam Rebekah's Will Convene

Iowa Supervisors Quit Office After Misconduct Charge
ALLISON—(INS)—The entire board of supervisors of Butler county has resigned upon demand of Attorney General John Fitcher, according to reports. Fletcher's demand, through county attorney J. H. Graven, charged certain irregularities in administration of office which are said to involve more than $80,000.

Supervisors R. C. Bode, C. C. Hickie and O. W. Hartman met with the county attorney Wednesday to hear Fletcher's demand, after which they handed in their resignations.

Fletcher's letter to county attorney Graven did not charge the supervisors with any criminal acts, but merely with "misconduct of office." The attorney general charged several violations of law in regard to the buying of equipment and the letting of contracts.

We Women

Grown-up Son and Daughter Must Not Interfere With Father's Happiness
By VIRGINIA VANE
Dear Miss Vane: My father has recently married a woman neither my brother nor I like. We have both been away to college and met many charming friends whom we would like to bring to our home—but our step-mother is impossible. She means to be kind in her own way, but she is nothing at all like the sort of people we know. It seems to me a man ought to consult his family before marrying again. We have had the best years of our life spoiled by the knowledge that this woman is now in charge of our home. Do you think our father showed us any consideration by acting this way? Please print letter and answer in full.

UNHAPPY DAUGHTER
Perhaps your father figured that he showed you enough consideration during the years when he sent you and your brother to college, and remained home a lonely widower. Perhaps he feels that he's done what he could for you to give you the right start in life—and that it's up to you now to live your own lives, just as he intends to live his.

Apparently he's found someone who suits him—someone who will be a companion to him when he grows older—and why should you begrudge him his happiness? You are young, you have much to look forward to. He hasn't. Unless he finds someone who loves him and whom he loves to keep him company, he faces a blank wall of loneliness. Are you going to say that he has done wrong because he has taken steps to avoid that loneliness?

And what good would it have done for him to consult you and your brother as to your wishes in the matter? How are either of you capable of judging what sort of woman will make him happy and give him the companionship he needs? You two children might have vetoed any suggestion he made, unless he had had the good luck to pick out a smart decorative type of woman who would have suited you and your friends.

You can't expect him to let you judge what he needs in the way of

PARTIES GIRD FOR 'WAR' OF CASH IN 1932

G. O. P. Holds Edge; Has Good Balance in Treasury

(Special to Free Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—With another presidential election rapidly drawing near, the major political parties of the United States are again preparing to treat the nation to the gaudy spectacle of high-powered campaigning as it is made possible by the mustering of huge fortunes in campaign funds.

Every present indication points to another battle of dollars in 1932, as in the case of the memorable political drives of 1928 and 1924, except possibly with old marks completely shattered by the amounts expended to sell the merits of various candidates to the mass of voters.

A year and a half still remains before the eventual date, but already both republican and democratic organizations are devising ways and means by which they hope to fill their coffers, mindful of the fact that with one single exception from 1896 to 1928—whether perhaps coincidence—the successful candidate has been the standard-bearer of the party that spent the most money.

Republicans Have Edge

Financially speaking, the republican party has the jump on the minority faction at the outset, due to the fact that notwithstanding a $9,500,000 campaign bill in 1928 and generous contributions to local committees in 1930, its treasury shows a substantial balance. Nevertheless a great deal more money will be needed to finance the approaching struggle, and no stone is being left unturned to attract contributions to the cause.

The democrats, with a deficit of about $625,000 from the 1928 campaign still unpaid, have a more difficult problem, but are tackling it with enthusiasm and hope, confident that the hour of democracy is at hand.

Raskob Has New Plan

John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, recently induced his co-workers to approve plans for a $6,000,000 fund raising campaign to carry the party through 1932 and take care of the tremendous deficit in the meantime.

As an immediate objective, an attempt will be made to raise the first million, which it is believed will be sufficient to finance activities of the party up to the time of the democratic national convention, when a new committee will take the reins. Raskob, in his financial program, is supported by former Governor Alfred E. Smith and Joseph Shouse, chairman of the democratic executive committee.

Discarding the old-fashioned methods of political money-getting, which have been followed since the middle of the last century, is proposed by Raskob in his plans for raising the huge fund. High-powered advertising, personal solicitation, direct mail appeals, radio talks, lapel buttons for contributors, and other up-to-date methods will be employed he says.

Public May Get Peep

The success of the democratic experiment will be watched with interest and may for the first time bring together the methods of big business and politics with an eye to efficiency, and results per dollar spent.

While most of the financial maneuvering will be done behind the closed doors of campaign meetings, the public is bound to get a peep into the progress of affairs. The attitude of congress, reflecting a growing public opinion of sensitivity on the question of campaign expenditures may possibly bring to light from time to time during the campaign the status of the money situation within the two parties.

Psychology Is Needed

When it is considered that together the two major parties raised a total of about $16,000,000 for the 1928 presidential campaign, it becomes apparent that considerable psychology is needed for campaign financing. What arguments and inducements are employed to attract huge contributions to the treasury? Many citizens ask that question.

Particularly illuminating on this subject was the testimony given by former Senator Joseph R. Grundy of Pennsylvania, long an ardent supporter and worker of the republican party, sometime ago before the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee.

Grundy, known as one of the party's most successful fund raisers and himself a generous contributor, frankly explained that he and his associates in the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association raised about $1,000,000 to support President Hoover's candidacy in 1928 because they expected to benefit through their respective businesses by virtue of a high tariff advocated by the candidate.

Business Argument Wins

Economic interests often are used, as shown by this case, to win contributions to the cause. This is probably the best argument of all, but sometimes social ambition is employed as the instrument to gain the end.

The case of Dwight F. Davis, who gave $10,000 in 1928, is cited as an example which may show the workings of the latter plan. When his contribution had anything to do with it or not, he was appointed governor general of the Philippine Islands shortly after the administration took office. F. Trubee Davidson, who gave $5,000, became assistant secretary of war, and Charles G. Dawes, who gave $2,500 but was not a leader of the republican opposition, was appointed ambassador to Great Britain.

For do the democrats frown on materialism? During the Wilson administration John Barton Payne, who contributed $15,000 to the campaign fund, was named general counsel for the United States Shipping Board emergency fleet, and Henry Morgenthau, whose gift was

G. O. P. Holds Edge; Has Good Balance In Treasury

$20,000. went to Turkey as the United States ambassador.

Besides these ancient and honorable arguments, current issues sometimes provide the impetus behind a scratch of the pen that may mean a substantial boost to party resources. Prohibition is such a question, and in the case of the forthcoming campaign is expected to win considerable financial support for the democrats. But the rule works both ways, too, and if the G. O. P. retains its enforcement plank undoubtedly ardent drys and prohibition organizations will throw their financial aid in the direction of the republican party.

And there are other inducements some good, some bad—all of which are being dusted off and thrown into brief cases by the army of high pressure salesmen soon to take the field in behalf of their respective parties and candidates.

Agents Examining Income Records of 'Jake the Barber'

CHICAGO—(INS)—While British authorities waited patiently for the extradition hearing to return him to England, John "Jake the Barber" Factor underwent a grilling at the hands of federal officials investigating his income tax records.

For more than an hour Robert E. Neely, acting collector of internal revenue, James E. Mitchell, of the internal revenue department in Washington, and two special intelligence agents questioned Factor in an effort to learn why he paid no income tax on the interest of the $7,000,000 he is alleged to have swindled from English investors. Factor's attorneys were present at the questioning.

Although federal officials refused to divulge what went on at the meeting it was understood Factor had been told to return in a few days with bankbooks and other accounts.

LaFollette Renews His Plea to Call a Special Session

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Declaring there was little hope for improvement in the economic situation, Senator Robert M. LaFollette Jr., chairman of the unemployment committee of the recent progressive conference, today renewed an appeal to President Hoover to call a special session of congress for the relief of unemployed.

The Wisconsin republican senator predicted millions of citizens would go hungry next winter unless congress assembled at once, ordered an expansion of the public buildings program, and provided other relief for the jobless.

He declared it was the "president's constitutional duty" to call congress into session to relieve human suffering.

Intoxicated Farmer Kills Wife and Two Sons in Wisconsin

MEDFORD, Wis.—(INS)—Joseph Fleischmann, a farmer, was under arrest today, charged with killing his wife and two young sons while crazed by home brew.

For five hours last night, following the killings, Fleischmann terrorized his three daughters and Anton Kummer, threatening to kill them also according to police.

In response to a telephone call, the Rev. Gregory Reuter of Medford went to the Fleischmann home, two miles from here.

"Come in, Father," the farmer greeted him. "I've got something to show you."

Fleischmann then led the Rev. Reuter to a bedroom and drew back a sheet, revealing the bodies of his wife and sons, police said.

GROVES PITCHES MACKS TO TWELFTH STRAIGHT WIN

STAR SOUTHPAW ALLOWS TIGERS ONLY 3 BLOWS

Fox and Miller Hit
Homers and Macks
Cop Again, 3-0

BY COPELAND C. BURG
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK—(INS)—The Philadelphia Athletics today went further about their business of slacking the interest in the American League race by recording their twelfth straight victory.

Connie Mack's sensational 1931 drive is based mostly on good pitchers. He is smacking back the ears of his rivals one by one by simply alternating four good hurlers.

Lefty Grove's turn came yesterday and he was as invincible as George Earnshaw the day previous. The A's withering Detroit, 3 to 0. Grove allowed only three hits and passed for, homered Miller homered and Simmons hit safely again, pushing his batting average up to .438, which is considerably more than any hitter in either league may offer.

Artlett Homers Twice
Buzz Arlett, the great Californian who made the Phillies a first division club, set the eagle shrieking with two circuit blasts as the good brothers came from behind to toss the Pirates, 11 to 7. Arlett is now leading both leagues in homers with 9, ranks second in national league hitting with a .355 average and to date has batted in 29 runs.

Another rookie, John Berly, up from Rochester, blanked the Reds, 4 to 0, for the New York Giants. Bill Terry's homer with 2 on in the seventh was important.

Babe Herman singled in the ninth to score Thompson and Brooklyn won from the Cardinals, 5 to 4. Manager Street, Coach Ware and Burleigh Grimes were banished for umpire casing Cardinals may not be available today on the St. Louis mound.

Hornsbey Benches Wilson
Manager Rogers Hornsbey finally benched Hack Wilson and the shakeup was a rabbit's foot for catcher Gabby Hartnett who polio a homer, a double and two singles to lead the hitting in the Bruins' 7 to 5 win over Boston.

Caraway gave Washington only three hits while Sam Jones was coasted out of six by the White Sox, but the Senators won, 2 to 1. White Sox errors helped and a Chicago fan got the spirit of the thing by reaching out of left field stand to catch a ball hit by Spencer.

Washington catcher, it might have been a triple, but as it was it went for a home run.

Stewart was better than a bevy of buzzards, but Lou Gehrig, R. H. 8 to 4, from Boston. Most of the Browns' 15 hits were bunched in the first two innings, netting seven tallies. Pickering homered twice for Boston.

The New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians were idle. Scores by innings:

Hungarian, Hungry For Mat Title, Is Here for Matches

NEW YORK—(INS)—Mihaly Orgovanyi of Budapest, Hungarian wrestler who recently won the heavyweight championship of Europe by throwing eight opponents in the Vienna tournament, arrived here today for an American invasion.

Orgovanyi, who says he never has been beaten, is seeking matches with Jim London, Strangler Lewis, Henri Deglane and other leading contenders. He will be feted tonight at a banquet tendered by prominent Hungarians in New York.

FOUR CONTESTS IN KITTENBALL LEAGUES HERE

Standard Oil, Kautz,
Iowa Metal Works
And Lions Win

The Iowa Sheet Metal Works team defeated the Hawkeye Factory league outfit at Jefferson field, 6 to 2, the Rotary players won from the Lions club, 9 to 2 in an American league playoff at Jefferson field, the Standard Oil nosed out a win over the Freighters at Heins diamond in a National league contest, 2 to 1, and the Kautz doughboys walloped the Courthouse aggregation, 19 to 2 in an American league game at Weed park in kittenball games played Wednesday night.

The Rotary-Lions contest at the Jefferson field was featured by the brilliant fielding of Kinnman and the timely hitting of Messinger on the Lions team. The Rotarians took an early lead of 4 to 1 in the first inning and gradually increased it in the other 4 innings.

The Kautz doughboys in their game with the Courthouse team went on a rampage in the second frame and before the final man could be retired, had crossed the plate 12 times. They were also greatly by 10 misplays. In all the Courthouse players made 15 errors. W. rner and Charles Kautz starred for the winners.

In a Sunday school league hard ball game played at the Weed park new diamond the Muscivore nine defeated the Presbyterian, 10 to 4.

BOSS OF REDS HOPES TO DEAL WITH NEW YORK

Howley Set to Trade
Anybody But Lucas
And Johnson

By LES CONKLIN
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK—Dan Howley, energetic manager of the Cincinnati Reds, told the writer early this morning that he hopes to swing a deal with the New York Giants today before the Cincinnati club concludes its eastern trip and starts westward.

With six of their best men on the shelf due to injuries, the Reds are badly crippled and Howley is making desperate efforts to patch up his lineup. He conferred with John McGraw for an hour last evening and will talk trade with the boss of the Giants again this afternoon.

The injured Redlegs are Harry Heilmann and Nick Cullip, outfielders; Mickey Heath, first baseman from the Pacific coast; Joe Stripp and Leo Durocher, regular infielders; and Benny Frey, right-hand pitcher. Most of them have been sent home until they round into shape. Heath will be out for five weeks yet with a broken arm and the date of Heilmann's return is indefinite.

"Even with Heilmann and Heath out, we started our eastern trip by winning four out of five," pointed out Howley, "then the others got hurt and we were in a bad way. Cullip was going great until he split a finger. Stripp's hand may be broken."

"We've got to get some replacements quickly and I'll trade anybody on the club except Red Lucas and Si Johnson (both pitchers) to get them. We could use an infielder and a catcher, but Howley thinks Johnson will not be traded under any circumstances."

"Johnson is the best rookie pitcher I've seen this season. He has pitched six corking games, although he won only one from Boston. The others were kicked away on him."

Johnson, who came up from Columbus, was beaten yesterday by John Berly, Giants' rookie hurler from Rochester, but Howley thinks Silas is even better than Berly.

One of the Cincinnati players ruefully declared that the club was getting too much "burley." Burleigh Grimes, of the Cards, and John Berly were the only hurlers to whitewash the Reds this season.

Howley thinks that either the Cardinals, Giants or Cubs will win the National league pennant this season, and is inclined to favor the Cards to repeat. He figures the Cubs, who have had tough sledding in the east along with other western clubs, will do much better on their home grounds.

average for the season, and if he were down on the job of manufacturing base hits it is more than likely that he would leave all opposition floundering behind him in the race for batting honors in the American league.

"The crowd wants the man with the sock," said the Babe the other day.

HI TRACK TEAM IN MEET UNDER LIGHTS FRIDAY

Blackhawk, Little Six
Athletes to Clash
At Burlington

By BILL CORUM
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK—The Giants crept so close to the Cardinals in the National league pennant race yesterday that Gabby Street was talking on his fingers around the lobby of the Alamo hotel last night. Nor was the close proximity of John McGraw's hustling young men in the standings the only thing that had the Old Sarge tongue-tied.

That young fellow John Chambers, who put our boys right up there by setting the Reds down with five scattered hits, is a refugee from the Cardinal farms. I mean, he belonged to the Cardinals last season and they spurned him, and the curve of a Bern spurned is sharper than serpent's tooth.

It would be the height of Primo Carnera if John Chambers should come through and pitch the Giants to a flag over the Cards. He and Paul Derringer were, you see, the rocks of ages for the pennant-winning Rochester club last season.

Rochester is one of Branch Rickey's outposts and Branch decided, for cash and other considerations, to sell one of these star hurlers and keep the other. Many a star chamberlain has been sold on the subject, and finally it was decided to keep "Two Gun" Derringer and let Berly go.

"Oll" Smith, the ex-Giant, ex-Cardinal, ex-Rochester catcher, told me the story coming over from Ebbets Field one afternoon last fall. "I'm working for the Cards," said "Oll," "but I like McGraw in spite of all our battles, and he got the better pitcher. I've caught both of 'em through the past three months and I know. Wait and see."

Well, we're waiting, and yesterday we saw a little. In any event, our John doesn't seem to have been a bad buy.

"JOE JINKS"

CONQUEROR OF VOIGT BEATEN BY DE FOREST

British Baron's Son
Eliminates Roper
2 Up and 1

By F. A. WRAY
INS Staff Correspondent

WESTWARD HO! Devon, Eng.—(INS)—The short-lived glory of Sydney Roper, young British insurance agent and former coal miner who swept the British amateur golf championship clear of American contenders by eliminating George Voigt of New York, the outstanding favorite, ended today when he went down to defeat before John G. De Forest, son of a British baron.

De Forest, who went to the United States last year to take lessons from Horton Smith, won by the score of 2 up and 1 to play in the quarter final of the historic tournament.

The quarter-final round comprised four matches between more or less obscure players, all of them British. While it stripped them of much of their excitement and color, this assured that the crown won by Bobby Jones last year and voluntarily relinquished would come back for at least a twelve months sojourn in the British Isles.

William Tulloch, a Scottish business man from Glasgow, also entered the semi-finals by defeating John Morrison, former all-round Cambridge athlete, 3 and 1.

Mr. John McCormack, a Dublin physician, defeated Captain N. C. C. Tippet 2 and 1, while Eric Martin-Smith, Cambridge undergraduate, eliminated Peter Miller by the same score.

The semi-finals will be played tomorrow and the finals on Saturday. Because of his victory over Voigt, Roper had been regarded as the favorite, but the outcome of the quarter-finals leaves the eventual outcome a toss-up between the four survivors.

The fol. games between the Giants and Dodgers in Brooklyn drew a total of 95,000 fans.

Val Picinich, veteran catcher with Brooklyn, is a third string backup while the youngsters, Lopes and Lombardi get first call.

SPORT SHORTS

With the release of Al Grabowski to the Rochester club the Cards have only one southpaw left. He is Bill Hallahan.

Baltimore last year sold Big Jim Weaver to the Yankees and hope to sell Monte Weaver of this year's pitching staff. They are not related.

MAX STARTS IN EASY ON GRIND Champion Will Begin Public Drills Some Time Next Week

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Pa.—(INS)—Max Schmeling, Teuton holder of the heavyweight championship who meets Young Stribling at Cleveland next month, planned a day of light exercise today as a preparation for the strenuous training grind to come. Public training exhibitions in the outdoor and indoor arenas will not be held until the latter part of next week.

Max and his Manager, Joe Jacobs, his German trainer, Max Machon, and Promoter Billy McCarney and the entire training camp retinue were enthusiastically received at a banquet here last night.

With Fred Vosen, hotel chef and a native of Berlin, in charge, a true German dinner was served several hundred admirers of the bronzed champion, while an orchestra played German airs and a male quartette harmonized.

The CLUE of the SCARLET RIBBON

SYNOPSIS: Because of her love for Barry Crox, a famous movie star, Charlie Linton is innocently ensnared in one of Hollywood's most thrilling unsolved murders. The death of one closely connected with the case has sealed her lips and she tells the true version for the first time.

The police find my love letters to Barry and immediately I am implicated in his death. Thornton Trainbridge, a newspaper man, decides to turn detective and prove my innocence. Among those suspected are Charlie Williams, the drug-addict brother of a famous movie star; Barry's chauffeur, who disappears shortly after the crime; my Aunt Kate, who takes an attack upon herself and searches the home for a little box of scarlet ribbons which I found on Barry's lawn the night of the murder. But the key man of the mystery, Thornton believes, is the man of mystery whom I first saw in Barry's home the day before the murder and who attacked Thornton in a restaurant and took away from him the one clue we had—the scarlet ribbon. I have a secret tryst with Thornton. He thinks he has discovered the identity of the mystery man.

THORNTON'S discovery of the man of mystery proved to be no discovery whatever by the time the night was over. In his capacity as a newspaper man Thornton was able, through devious ways, to worm information out of the police about that case. Some of what he learned proved valuable in the end, but much of it was a thousand miles away from the murderer of Barry Crox.

Thornton has learned from a detective who was working on the case that there was a man who had recently come to Hollywood and who the police had reason to believe had an old score to settle with Barry. In fact, Barry had pointed this man out to several friends with the remark that "there is a man who is going to kill me some time."

The police at the time were too busy on other clues to pay much attention to this information. No one seemed to know anything about the man or what reason he might have to kill Barry. The police made a feeble effort to locate him and then gave up. But Thornton assumed at once that this was the man who had stolen the scarlet ribbon and proceeded to locate him five days later.

It is to his credit that he was able to do so. He learned the description of the man from friends of Barry and then began to scour every blot of Hollywood to find him. He was finally successful. The man was waiting on tables at a cheap restaurant under a different name.

It was to this restaurant that Barry took me first. One glance at the man told me that he was not my man of mystery. He was not the same size and there was nothing familiar about him.

"We sat at a little side table. The cafe was dirty and had a sickening smell. There were about five people in it and all were men. Mostly taxi drivers and some hard looking individuals. When this waiter came out, Thornton grabbed my hand and ventured to suggest.

"Yes, he takes dope. There's a lot of people in Hollywood who do the same thing, but they are not connected with a dope ring."

"That's one question that the police have never been able to answer. Personally, I think he was. I think he's getting customers for the ring."

"That's not the man!" I cried.

Barry's death was too recent, and my love for him still too deep, to hear that without flushing with anger.

"I think that's a mean and low down statement to make, Thornton Trainbridge," I retorted. "You're just talking to hear yourself talk. You don't know anything about Barry Crox."

"Think not!" A smile played around his lips. "Listen," he continued, "I could tell you enough about Barry Crox to make you hate him the rest of your life. Remember, you knew him as a lovesick young girl knows a man."

"I was perfectly willing to drop the subject. I didn't want to hear anything against Barry and I was afraid of what Thornton might say."

"How does Charlie fit in so perfectly with this crime?" I asked, wishing to divert the subject from Barry.

"We know this much about Charlie," Thornton always referred to himself and the police as "we," "though the only way he ever worked with the police was working them for information. 'He got dope through Barry Crox and Barry Crox had something to say on his mind, what it was we don't know. That's why I went to Barry's house that night. There's a piece of paper there somewhere that tells that story."

"I looked dubious and Thornton continued his argument.

"All right, there have a mo-night with her schoolmate, Betty Holtz.

California in the Days of the Padres—4. The Work of Father Serra

—By J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

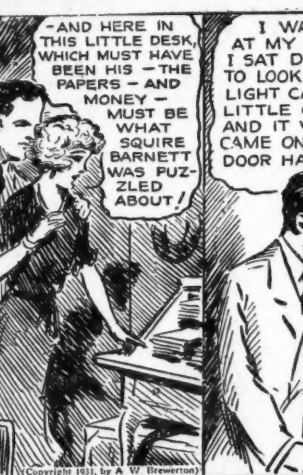

THE KINDLY, CAPABLE FRANCISCAN FRIAR, FATHER JUNIPERO SERRA, IS GRATEFULLY REMEMBERED AS THE PIONEER MISSIONARY TO CALIFORNIA. HE WAS BELOVED BY ALL FOR HIS DEVOTED, SELF-SACRIFICING SERVICE, PARTICULARLY BY THE THOUSANDS OF INDIANS HE CONVERTED TO CHRISTIANITY.

FOR FIFTEEN YEARS, UNTIL HIS DEATH AT SAN CARLOS IN 1785, SERRA LABORED TIRELESSLY IN CALIFORNIA. DURING THAT TIME HE FOUNDED NO LESS THAN NINE IMPORTANT MISSIONS AND HELPED THE RESPONSIBLE POST OF FATHER-PRESIDENT OF MISSIONS.

SERRA TAUGHT THE CHRISTIAN INDIANS HOW TO TILL THE FIELDS AND GROW A GREAT VARIETY OF VEGETABLES. HE PLANTED LOVELY FLOWER GARDENS AND ORCHARDS OF FRUIT AND OLIVE TREES. HE STARTED HERDS OF CATTLE WITH STOCK BROUGHT FROM MEXICO.

SWORN TO POVERTY, FATHER JUNIPERO NEVER REMAINED TO ENJOY THE FRUITS OF HIS LABORS. ONCE A MISSION WAS FIRMLY ESTABLISHED, THE GOOD PADRE DEPARTED FOR A NEW FIELD OF MISSIONARY ENDEAVOR.
